Updated totals change numbers, not results for Oro Valley council

Vote totals have been updated in the 5-way bid for 3 seats on the Oro Valley Town Council.

Numbers have changed, but the unofficial results have not; Oro Valley voters have re-elected Councilman Steve Solomon, and seated first-time candidates Dr. Harry "Mo" Greene II and Tim Bohan on the council.

Solomon leads all candidates with 7,360 votes, as posted by the Pima County Recorder's Office Friday morning. Greene was second at 7,355; Bohan, third, 7,159; incumbent Bill Rodman fourth, 7,085; and Bill Garner fifth, 6,955. There were 85 write-in votes.

To determine the outcome, add all the votes cast for the 5 candidates, then divide by the number of open seats, 3. That number is then divided in half, to indicate the 50 percent threshold. Any candidate who receives 50 percent of the votes, plus at least 1 vote, is elected.

Official results are expected to be determined after a canvass next week.

By a vote of 8,499-4,497 (65-35 percent) Oro Valley voters passed Proposition 480, setting a permanent base adjustment in the town's budget expenditure limit.

The Views golf almost finished replacing greens

Chamber member The Views Golf Club is nearly finished with its greens replacement project.

To protect the investment, now's the time to keep off newly sodded and sprigged areas, the club said in a release. "These areas will be heavily watered, and walking or driving on them will result in ruts that will require additional work and expense to repair. Look from a distance only."

It'll be a year before the turf is fully established, Director of Golf Rick Price said.

Bay Equity Home Loans is located at 7400 N.

We Zixed, shared, learned Thursday

Oh, the things you'll hear at a Chamber Zixer. We Zixed Thursday morning, and learned ...

Evelyn Wright of Pima County One Stop reminded employers they can list jobs for free through her service. Evelyn won a "door" prize, a wine caddy with bottle of wine donated by Copper member State Farm Insurance / Wendy Wise, which she then donated back to the Chamber. Thanks, Evelyn! To post jobs, click here.

Britten Leigh joined the call; she's with Artists & Makers Studios 2, which is opening 12 boutique, private studios for visual artists as well as an art gallery on the first floor of Chamber member Life Storage, within Oro Valley's Steam Pump Village. She's seeking visual artists; her email is orovalley@artistsandmakersstudios.com.

Britten won a door prize, a $25 gift card to zPizza donated by Chamber Copper member Splendido at Rancho Vistoso.

Paul Hopman talked about Treasures 4 Teachers' supply drive, with donations being accepted at Sparkle Cleaners locations throughout the community. Greater Tucson has 16,000 or so teachers; about 450 get low-cost help with school supplies through T4T's small warehouse.

Rob LaMaster of Make-A-Wish Arizona talked about the organization's pivot from travel-centered wishes to more socially distanced but rewarding experiences for young people. He's been on the phone and writing thank-you notes through the pandemic. Direct donations at a recent event exceeded revenue from the sale of auction items.

Farhang & Medcoff refreshes on work-related topics 8/12

Chamber member law firm Farhang & Medcoff offers guidance on remote work, intermittent leave requests, alternative schedules and the effects of federal legislation during an event this Wednesday, Aug. 12, from 8 to 9 a.m.

In the next few weeks, parents will find out if students will return to the classroom. Employers will find out if employees must continue to balance workload and children's at-home learning. Parents and employers will need to find a way to adapt to new challenges as the fall semester begins.

Tim Medcoff and Lia Keller of Farhang & Medcoff lead the refresher course. Register today at here.

Desert Springs advertising its complete deals

Chamber member Desert Springs Gracious Retirement Living is accepting move-ins and advertising its comprehensive packages.

Studios start at $2,195 a month, with everything included except a personal telephone. Food, live-in managers, scheduled local transportation, weekly housekeeping and linen service, utilities, a safety call system, movie theater, library and fitness center, and activities are built in.

Desert Springs is located at 30 West Lambert Lane.

Monica Smith of Visiting Angels said her company is looking for more caregivers. "We have great caregivers. They're my heroes, they truly are." Qualified caregivers need the experience, "and the heart" to do such important work, she said. Go to visitingangels.com.

Scott Taylor of Robson Publishing said the company is introducing community maps into its array of products. He, too, is "picking up the old telephone again" to connect with customers. "People want to communicate," Scott said. The website is robson.com.

Chris Seidman of Unscrewed Theater said the company has gone 100 percent online, so now it is "the world's place for improv comedy." There's a full calendar of improv events. "We want to be sure we keep everyone laughing, especially these days," Chris said. The website is unscrewedtheater.org.

Cat Linta of Copper Canyon Assisted Living and Memory Care said her facility is COVID 19-free – so is Splendido at Rancho Vistoso, reports Nancy Boyle, and Quail Park of Oro Valley, Julie Enfield reported. Cat won the Vector Impressions "door" prize, a gift basket.

The group had good conversation about mask use, and how to request customers use masks.

We Zix again the evening of Thursday, Aug. 20.

Dr. Franzi-Osborne joins Casa de la Luz

Casa de la Luz, a Chamber Copper member and Southern Arizona's leading provider of end of life care, has added Rebecca Franzi-Osborne, MD, to its team of full-time physicians.

From urgent care to geriatric primary care to honoring patients' wishes at end of life, Dr. Osborne has served individuals throughout the spectrum of health care. A practicing physician for nearly 15 years, the University of Arizona alum recently returned to Tucson after spending more than a decade in Virginia Beach, Va.

Dr. Osborne was first introduced to the person-centered hospice care model when she volunteered with Carondelet Hospice prior to starting medical school. Later in her career she served as medical director for Freda H Gordon Hospice and Palliative Care of Tidewater.

As Casa de la Luz Associate Medical Director, Dr. Osborne is responsible for directing all aspects of patient care, including determining hospice and inpatient eligibility, collaborating with community physicians to provide superior care, and managing difficult symptoms so patients may complete their mission on this earth in comfort, dignity and harmony.

"I want to make a difference in the lives of my patients" says Dr. Osborne. "And in hospice I feel like I have that opportunity."

Locally owned and operated, Casa de la Luz is the leading provider of end of life care in Southern Arizona. Offering hospice, community palliative care and extensive bereavement services, the breadth of programs at Casa de la Luz extends through every stage at end of life. Since opening in 1998, Casa de la Luz has cared for more than 20,000 individuals. Learn more at www.casahospice.com or by calling the 24-hour support line at 520.544.9890.

Members

Hello Chamber Members,

We are scheduling more and more meetings online. This leads to a lot of emails back and forth.

It also leads to software searches and additional monthly costs. We support businesses and help them streamline.

If you use Microsoft Office 365, you can use software you already have for your bookings and it connects with your calendaring and more.

I have a quick tutorial on how you can set it up with your logo and call availability and more.

I hope this helps you in business.

BOOKINGS, CALENDLY, SCHEDULING, BOOK LIKE A BOSS.... You may already have the answer to scheduling and are paying for it.

<https://www.acaciait.com/bookings-new-microsoft-365/>

If your current IT/Computer Support company has not discussed re-evaluating your needs and your IT after all the changes recently, we should discuss. All of our clients have been going through adjustments and looking at where they are now. Where they are now is certainly a change. Give me a call and I can help you think about it from an outside perspective. If you haven't taking a chance to review and are still status quo when it comes to I.T., I'd be concerned.
