A tribute to Lyra, 'Queen of OV'

Pia Salonga, marketing and communications specialist for the Town of Oro Valley, created this collage tribute to Lyra Done, the longtime resident and Oro Valley advocate who died in late October. The images include a photo of Lyra with her late husband Richard, top center, as well as images taken by Lou Waters at the dedication to Lyra of a tree and bench in Riverfront Park last December. She's with former Mayor Satish Hiremath in the bottom center picture.

More words for Lyra

Tributes to Lyra Done have come to us from the Town of Oro Valley and the Southern Arizona Home Builders Association, 2 entities held dearly by the Queen of Oro Valley.

"No one will ever replace you," Oro Valley Town Councilman Steve Solomon said of Lyra, who died Oct. 23. "Her mind was always sharp." Lyra always expressed "her love and compassion for the people of this town," he said.

Lyra, who chaired your Chamber's Public Policy Committee for many years, "was an absolute spitfire," Councilman Josh Nicolson said. "In her heart of hearts, she wanted what was best for the town."

Where's Dave? Talking about home safety with GRFD

We took Dave to the Golder Ranch Fire District Station 380, Magee Road, for a Facebook Live conversation with Capt. Adam Jarrold, public information officer for Copper member GRFD, about safety in the kitchen.

Adam talked about fire extinguishers, pot holders, how to pull the turkey from the oven, grease, keeping the kids and dogs away, smoke alarms, you name it! Watch Where's Dave here.

Building done on UA OV incubator

Construction is complete on The University of Arizona Center for Innovation at Oro Valley, the new bioscience incubator in Oro Valley's Innovation Corporate Center.

Carol Stewart, associate vice president for Tech Parks Arizona, and Eric Smith, executive director of the UA Center for Innovation, made the announcement in email this week. Chamber member Venture West has constructed the building.

"This purpose-built environment creates spaces for bioscience and Oro Valley-based startups filling a gap in the entrepreneurial ecosystem," Stewart and Smith said.

Limited tours are planned for December.

In FY's first 4 months, OV has issued 148 house permits

The pace of new home permitting in Oro Valley is more brisk than anticipated.

In a communication, SAHBA said "Lyra was a tremendous source of joy and inspiration for anyone who had the opportunity to know her. Always quick of wit and quicker with a smile, she was never afraid to call it like she saw it. When she did, you knew she meant it with all her heart and only the best intentions."

Lyra was an active volunteer with SAHBA. "While she will be missed, we can be assured the impression she left on SAHBA, and all those she met, will last forever," it concluded.

At Lyra's request, no services are planned.

With his bride Nathalie, BSN, by his side, and flanked by staff, Dr. Anir Dhir cut the ribbon on their new Arizona Mohs Surgery office, 7530 N. Oracle, Suite 102, on the east side of Oracle north of Ina.

Arizona Mohs Surgery opens on Oracle Road

With the quick decisiveness of a surgeon – "one clean cut," Dr. Anir Dhir said – the ribbon flew last Friday at new Chamber member Arizona Mohs Surgery, 7530 N. Oracle, Suite 102, just across the street from Oro Valley.

"We're so grateful to everyone for taking time off" and attending the mid-morning event, Dr. Dhir said. "Everyone here played a huge role in helping create this."

The Texan, who practiced for years in Lexington, Ky., and also spent time as a race car driver, "never dreamed I'd be living in Tucson, Arizona." But he's found purpose in Tucson, and is immediately busy.

Arizona Mohs Surgery is a dermatology practice dedicated to the surgical treatment of skin cancer. Dr. Dhir and his wife of 25 years, Nathalie Dhir, BSN, created Arizona Mohs Surgery to provide the best of both worlds: top-quality, experienced skin cancer surgical care in a personable, cost-effective private practice setting. Dr. Dhir is a fellowship-trained Mohs micrographic surgeon who has performed more than 31,000 Mohs surgeries with a cure rate of 99.5%.

The practice has 6 employees. Go to azmohssurgery.com.

Among the many special guests were Neil Simon of Chamber member Venture West, which built out the space; and Tim Medcoff of Chamber member Farhang & Medcoff, who is the chair of the Tucson Metro Chamber board of directors.

P&Z recommends higher density uses for parcel just south of Tangerine

Without dissent, the Oro Valley Planning and Zoning Commission has recommended approval of a general plan amendment with accompanying rezoning to allow 2 specific multi-family residential development options on a 13.44-acre vacant parcel just south of Tangerine Road near First Avenue.

In so doing, P&Z stipulated its permissions would allow apartments or rental casitas on the site, which sits south of a hill on the south side of Tangerine Road above Big Wash. It is close to new residential developments along First Avenue.

P&Z denied a request from the applicant, Kai Enterprises, that tentative development plans for townhomes, senior care and single-family residential homes also be recommended to the town council.

Town staff had recommended the single-family and senior care options not be approved. Your Chamber spoke and wrote in favor of the general plan amendment and zoning changes, and asked that the single-family residential option remain.

Commissioners went a step further with the staff recommendation, taking out the townhome use as well. A study commissioned by the applicant showed the greatest economic benefits for development of the previously scraped parcel would come from, in descending order, apartments, rental casitas, townhomes, single-family residential and senior care use.

Paul Oland of Paradigm Land Design, representing the applicant, said he has "worked with staff extensively over the past couple of months" to refine the proposal. Oland said the more intensive residential uses would benefit area retail and commercial businesses that are now challenged by a pandemic, and have long lacked sufficient, nearby residential density.

"We would certainly endeavor to place a higher density use on this parcel first," Oland said. Nonetheless, he hoped to hold the less-dense single-family option "in the wings" for at least a year.

Commissioner Hal Bergsma said the town should "take advantage of opportunities as they arise to get higher-density housing" on sites such as this. Others agreed. The vote was 6-0.

The proposal next goes to council in December.

Northwest YMCA hosts its 'Gratitude Gathering' 11/20

Guests are invited to The Northwest YMCA on Friday, Nov. 20, for the Y's Gratitude

Kiwanis of Tucson cleans Ina ‘tween Oracle and First

In late October, Chamber member the Kiwanis Club of Tucson dispatched 15 members and volunteers to clean along Ina Road between Oracle and First Avenue.

In addition to the “mundane hundreds of cigarette butts,” the group collected bottles, fast food wrappers, straws, broken glass, hubcaps, car bumpers and a tire.

Kiwanis Club of Tucson adopted that stretch of Ina Road years ago through the Pima County Department of Transportation, which provided safety vests and trash collection bags.

Following the service project, the club held a “COVID-compliant” picnic, and Lt. Gov. Deborah Josselyn installed 2020-’21 club officers and directors. They are Greg Landers, president; Jayne Stephens, president-elect; Howard Koehler, secretary / treasurer; Betty Misch, immediate past president; and directors Jack Hamilton, Dale Pederson, Joan Landers and Brigid Gannon.

Buy a box of books from OV Friends 11/12-14

Friends of the Oro Valley Public Library have pivoted their semi-annual book sales during the pandemic.

This year, the all-volunteer Friends have accumulated “boxes and boxes of books in storage. And we are running out of room!”

To make space, the Friends are hosting the “Buy-A-Box” book sale this Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 12-14, on Gathering, a socially distanced, outdoor expression of thanks that begins at 9 a.m.

“We are overflowing with appreciation for our community and extend this invitation as an opportunity to say thank you in the true spirit of the YMCA of Southern Arizona,” an invitation said. “This socially distanced gathering is an opportunity to recharge your energy with your neighbors over a cup of coffee provided by our neighborhood Starbucks.”

There’s a little workout, too – of course! A free outdoor Zumba class is open to guests. It’s certain “to help you burn some calories and boost your mood as we prepare for the Thanksgiving holiday!”

What are you grateful for? Write it out down on a sign that will be placed in The Y’s gratitude garden.

Please rsvp to Briana Moyer (brianam@tucsonymca.org) by 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 19. Indicate if you’ll attend the Zumba class at 10 a.m., too.

Chamber member the Northwest YMCA is located at 7770 N. Shannon.

Joy Huxtable, president of the Sun City Oro Valley board of directors, whacked the ribbon last Friday standing on the expanded, rebuilt practice green at The Views Golf Club in Oro Valley. Helping are Vice Mayor Melanie Barrett, Mayor Joe Winfield, Sun City Oro Valley general manager Mark Wade, Chamber President / CEO Dave Perry, and new Councilman Mo Greene.

The Views Golf Club celebrates rebuilt greens, driving range

A big crowd of golf enthusiasts and community members cut the ribbon last Friday at Chamber member The Views Golf Club, where the community celebrated reconstruction of putting greens and the driving range on the 18-hole course.

Joy Huxtable, president of the Sun City Oro Valley board, cut the ribbon. Mark Wade, general manager, and Rick Price, director of golf, thanked everyone for their patience, and praised workers who got the job done on time and under budget. The project, a year in the making, was led by greens superintendent Michael Kropf and his team, along with golf course design architect Mike Gogel and the greens reconstruction committee.

Mayor Joe Winfield, Vice Mayor Melanie Barrett and Councilman Mo Greene were on hand for the event.

Children's Museum OV pivots through pandemic

Virtual programs, play dates, 'Brain Boxes' have kept children engaged

Hilary Van Alsburg, executive director of Children's Museum Tucson and Oro Valley, gave an update on CMOV to the Oro Valley Town Council on Oct. 21.

Children's Museum Oro Valley remains closed to the public, other than for donation-based private play dates. Those events have raised "much-needed funds," she said.

Children's Museum Oro Valley is adding to its courtyard activities, keeping children and families safely outside. Safety is its highest priority, Van Alsburg continued.

Meanwhile, CMOV virtual programs are "such a success story," with thousands of participants through Facebook, and more than 1,000 "Brain Boxes" distributed at no charge to underserved children and their families, Val Alsburg said. Brain Boxes have 30 different science experiments for kids to do at home.

"Thank you so very much for helping us keep going," Van Alsburg told the council. Oro Valley provides an annual grant to CMOV to help pay its local expenses.

The Children's Museum helps itself, too. In September, Children's Museum Tucson / Oro Valley received a $170,000 Museums for America grant that will be used to increase accessibility and outreach to underserved groups in Southern Arizona.

That easy! That important to your business.

Don't confuse your customers by using:

- personal phone numbers
- personal cells
- google numbers
- or the worst for your business..... only responding to voicemails

Worried about VOIP costs? Let us compare your phone bills. Easy comparison. Worthwhile discussion. Call (520) 751-0888
